BIG GERMAN FORCE REPORTED CUT UP IN POLAND SWAMP

Great Losses Inflicted by the Russian Cavalry, Says Petrograd Despatch.

HEAVY GUNS CAPTURED.

Counter Attacks Declared to Have Been Repulsed.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 25 (United Press).-Heavy losses to a retreating German infantry corps by Russian cavalry is reported to-day in an oficial statement from the War Office.

"Continued success is reported from all our front," the statement declares Russian cavalry, attacking German retreating infantry corps near Lods, drove them into a swamp, inflicted great losses and captured a number of heavy guns. The attempts of our anemy to make counter attacks have seen everywhere repulsed."

The Germans are declared to be retreating along a forty mile line. Reinforcements are advancing from the south of Kalles, but the superiority of the Russians in numbers over the Germans, even with the new troops, is expected to force the Kaiser's troops back upon their own frontier for a second time. The battle line is swinging to the southwest.

It is admitted here that hard fighting is still in progress. The Russians have falled in their efforts to flank Gen. von Hindenburg, but the retreat to the southwest was necessary just as his main line of advance had plerced the Russian centre.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 .- Secretary pierced the Russian centre.

PETROGRAD (via London), Nov. 25 (Associated Press).—The Russian defense against the German left is holding fast, according to trustworthy information reaching Petrograd today. The Russians are assuming the offensive on the German right.

The German advance from Wielun, south of Warthe, has been checked after severe fighting.

The Germans are said to be receiving heavy reinforcements between the Vistula and the Warthe. els, in a Thanksgiving address to-Government Printing Office, spoke for a national policy of peace with the world and replied to critics of the state of preparedness of the army and navy.

$1,250,000,000 ADDED

BERLIN (via The Hague and London), Nov. 25. (Assolated Press) .-The Reichstag has received a draft of the second supplementary imperial budget for the year 1914.

This empowers the Imperial Chan cellor, for the purpose of meeting ex-traordinary expenses, to raise an additional 5,000,000,000 m.... ha ($1,250,000,ooo) in the form of credit. The Chancellor is authorised to issue treasury notes up to 400,000,000 mark: ($100,-100,000) above the amount prescribed by the budget for the temporary strengthening of the ordinary working capital of the Imperial Treasury.

Of this amount one-half is destined for the support of individuals affected by the war, while the other half is to be spent in the support of communities and for the support of individual cases of distress. Advices from London indicate that great cotton spinning firm of J. and P. Coats has felt the effect of the war in a serious degree. Failure to declare its usual bonuses is noted, while many of its mills are closed. New York Coffee Exchange announced that the Eschange will reopen Monday at 10.30 A. M.

Military activity in the west is centred on the line from the Belgian town of Ypres, across the border to La Bassee in France. This latest phase of the war is believed to mark another German effort to push for ward to the English Channel, and it is said that the battle is biazing forta with all the fury and desperation of the former German attacks.

The Germans have brought up reinforcements and new heavy guns in France and Belgium, and it is expected that the next few days will be marked by some of the most deadly encounters of the war.

Definite news as to the outcome of the crucial struggle in the east s still lacking. Private despatches from Petrograd state that the Russians have made an important forward movement on the Czenstochowa-Cracow line, which roughly parallels the border of Silesia and extends from Poland to Austrian territory, near the fortress of Cracow.

GUNMEN SLAYERS OF BAFF HIRED BY BUSINESS ENEMIES

Baff has been merciless in his com petition and has driven many of his mmediate competitors who were members of the Live Poultry Dealers' Association to the verge of bankruptcy. The astute chicken jobber succeeded in this because he would not obey association rules.

YEARS. Though he was a jobber, he sold at retail, which was against the othics of the association. He established branch markets for his wholesale and retail trade in Harlem and elsewhere and thus secured control of the butchers' trade in the districts he invaded.

He loaned money to small butchers to establish themselves in business on the guarantee that he would have their exclusive trade. Because of his ncreased business he could afford to pay a better price for poultry to the country growers and thus secure exlusive contracts for market delivery. The Evening World learned to-day that Haff had made $500,000 in the last three years, or since the conviction of his business rivals. He expected to are now serving sentences in Sing clear an even $100,000 on the forthcoming holiday trade.

BELIEVE THE ASSASSINS WERE CHICKEN HANDLERS.

There is sufficient evidence to indicate that the gunmen who murdered Baff last night were recruited from the ranks of the chicken handlers and were not outside men called to do the job.

Inquiry by detectives to-day developed the fact that a veritable reign of terror has been in progress around the West Washington Market for some months, caused by the efforts of a gang of chicken handlers and chicken draymen to intimidate Baff and drive customers away from him and those other independents who looked to him as their leader.

Part of this gang carries on its activities in the Lackawanna and Erie Railroad yards, where the chicken cars are shunted on side tracks for inloading. These chicken handlers are known to be recruited from the lowest elements on the east side. Over in the railroad yards intimidation of the men who handle Baff's "independent" chickens has been no

"independent" chickens has been no less severe than in the market on the Manhattan side.

One definite bit of information the detectives gleaned to-day. This was that Baff had been lured to his death by a messenger after an unknown person had ascertained over the telephone that the victim was still in his market. This telephone call the market is allowed by Poslam, and aggravation are easily bealed by Poslam, and aggravation are easily bealed by Poslam, and aggravation are easily its like the market which was a preliminary to the work which Poslam does in finally eradicating the trouble.

A clerk who answered the telephone tried to question the inquirer as to his identity. The conversation suddenly ceased at the other end of the wire. Within ten minutes a man app peared in the Gansevoort end of
